Program Clinic Information

Clinic Description

Through our partnership with PGC Basketball, Better Basketball is pleased to offer the opportunity for all the players in your program to experience various offerings from Better Basketball. Through a private clinic, Rick Torbett will lead your players and coaches through a clinic that will serve the specific needs of your program.

Better Basketball clinics may include one or more of the following options:

- Read and React Offense instruction
- Dynamic Defense
- Player Development
    - Better Shooting
    - Better Passing
    - Better Post Play
    - Etc.
- And more!

Private clinics can be done over one, two, or three day periods and will include a customized curriculum complete with on-court training, along film sessions for your team. If you're interested in hosting a clinic that covers four or more days, please contact clinics@pgcbasketball.com for specific pricing.

Registration Requirements

The clinic host is responsible for collecting individual registration fees from players (if applicable). Better Basketball will not accept individual clinic payments from participating players. All athletes and coaches will need to complete an online waiver form prior to the clinic.

Clinic Promotion

Flyers - Clinic hosts are required to use Better Basketball clinic flyers, provided to clinic hosts as a PDF file.
Host Website – If the clinic host desires to post details on a website, the page must be approved by Better Basketball.
Better Basketball Website – Better Basketball does not post private clinic information on www.BetterBasketball.com.

Observing Coaches

Coaches from the clinic host program are welcome to attend the clinic at no cost and do not count towards the clinic enrollment total.

Program Clinic Fee Structure

Clinic Expenses

In addition to the clinic fee, clinic host are responsible for providing meals, accommodations, and flights (if needed) for the clinic director. If flights are required, the flights should be booked by the clinic host at least three weeks prior to the clinic. If the director lives close enough to drive in for the clinic, the clinic host is responsible to reimburse the cost of gas.

Additional details

- The clinic fee is paid in two instalments: The first instalment (50% of the total amount) is due three weeks prior to the clinic. The remaining balance is due the day of the clinic.
- Both instalments must be paid online by the clinic host via a credit card. A link will be provided for payment.
- The host can increase the number of players at any time and the clinic fee will be adjusted if the higher player threshold is reached. The predetermined fee cannot be decreased if enrollment is lower than anticipated.
- Players must complete the online waiver form prior to participating in the clinic.

Player Registration Fees

If players will be charged a registration fee, clinic hosts can choose the registration fee amount. We recommend charging players $50-$75 per day. Once a registration fee has been decided, please connect with our clinic coordinator for final approval.
